

Uninstalling P2P software from Windows XP

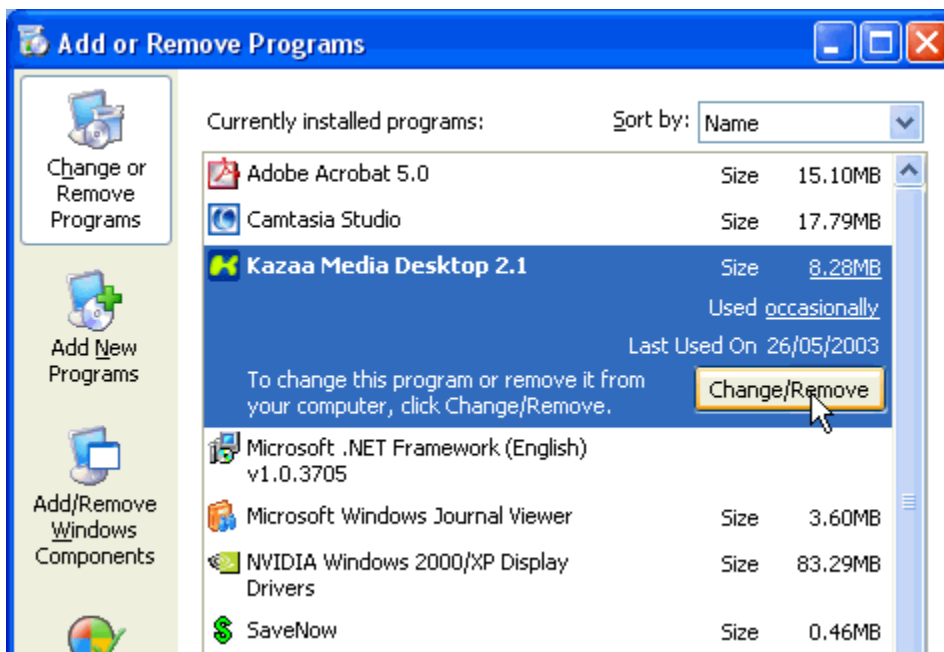

The following uninstall method should remove most P2P software and also any other program that you may want to uninstall. Be aware though, that some P2P software may not uninstall completely or successfully, and could damage your system files in the process. Please ensure that you have a complete backup of any important documents or files to avoid accidental loss.

1. Click Start, and then Control Panel.

2. Select Add or Remove Programs from the Control Panel categories.

3. Select the program to be uninstalled and then click the Change/Remove button.

4. Find the program's icon in the Taskbar next to the system clock, right click on it and select Exit or Close. Click OK to continue.

5. Most P2P programs will ask you many times if you are sure that you want to uninstall or remove the program. Click OK or Yes to continue with uninstall.

6. Once uninstall is complete, the system may have to be restarted.

There may also be other programs that were installed at the same time as the P2P software, such as SaveNow - remove any programs that are obviously associated with the P2P software.
